

Camp Out

Mick and Ciara put up their tent in the garden. They took sleeping bags, their teddies and a torch into the tent.

'We are going to camp out,' they said.

It was hot in the tent. Daddy came out with cool drinks for the campers.

When it got dark, they snuggled into their sleeping bags. Then an owl hooted.

'I want to go in now,' whispered Mick. 'I want to go in too,' said Ciara. That was the end of the camp out. ■
