

Ice Cream Cones

It was a very hot day. Danny paddled in the water and Mammy sat in the sun. 'Go and buy ice cream cones,' said Mammy. Danny bought the ice cream cones from the man in the ice cream van. As he was walking back, the ice cream started to melt. Danny licked the cones to stop them dripping. But they kept on melting. Danny had to keep on licking.

'Oops!' he said, as he handed Mammy her empty cone. She wasn't too pleased. ■
