

Writing genre: Writing a story

A story has a setting, characters and a problem that is solved before the end.

Write a story set in space.

1. Make a plan.
  - Choose a setting such as a spaceship or a strange planet. What does it look, smell and sound like? What adjectives describe it?
  - Imagine your characters. Who is there? What do they look like? What are their feelings?
  - Think of a problem. What happens first? What happens next? How does it end?
2. Use your plan to write your story.

Oral language: Describing a setting

Describe the strange planet to a partner.

1. What can you see? Use adjectives to describe:
  - The colours
  - The creatures
  - The buildings
  - What it might be like to touch the trees, plants and rocks

2. Now listen to your partner describe the planet.
