Tom lives in Hong Kong. He is in grade 6 and is going to visit some family in Morocco with his parents. He's very excited and he wants to find out what exciting things there are to do. Tom rings his cousin Hasan in Morocco to find out more.

Tom: Hello, Hasan? Is that you?

Hasan: Hi Tom! Yes it's me. I'm very excited about your visit, I've thought of some things for us to do!

Tom: That's brilliant, that's exactly what I was ringing to chat about. What do you have in mind?

Hasan: Well, I think the first thing we should do is go to a souk. This is what we call a market. The markets can be very busy places but you can buy lots of things including beautiful carpets and gold tea sets.

Tom: That sounds great; I like to go to the markets in Hong Kong so I think I'd like to visit a souk! What else do you have in mind?

Hasan: Well you must try the delicious food here. There are many restaurants and Moroccan food is full of spice and flavor. It's fantastic. My favourite thing to eat is a kebab filled with lamb and vegetables. It's delicious! You must try it!

Tom: Of course I'll try it! Yummy!

Hasan: I was thinking, for a day trip we could go to the Ourika Valley. It's just outside Marrakech and is so beautiful and green even in the hot summer months. We can also stretch our legs and go hiking up to the beautiful waterfalls.

Tom: That sounds fantastic Hasan, I'm really looking forward to visiting you and doing all these amazing things! Thanks for chatting, I'll see you soon!
